DESCRIPTION:

The iconic Mt. Fuji has long been regarded as the most sacred and prestigious mountain in Japan. So much so, that it has been illustrated in most various art forms: paintings, drawings, photography, poems, songs, even sculpture and architecture. The base of the mountain is surrounded with dense countryside and mystic forests and culturally rich communities. First stop of Fuji Peace Park, with its white Pagoda soaring high into the sky, provides the perfect photo opportunity for Mt. Fuji (weather permitting). At Fujisan World Heritage Center - opened June 2016 that could be feel bird's-eye view, changes of worships, derived culture, histories and more about Mt. Fuji. Drive up to Mt. Fuji 5th Station that situated at 7,683 feet high above sea level where you could enjoy the panoramic view of the forest around Mt. Fuji/the summit of it (weather permitting). Next stop at the foot of Mt. Fuji will be the Sengen-jinja, a shrine dedicated to Princess Konohanasakuya, the Shinto deity of Mount Fuji. The path leading up to the shrine is lined with towering cypress trees and mossy stone lanterns and is actually the start of the Fujiyoshida Mt. Fuji climbing trail. On the tour last, we will take you to Oshino Hakkai area to see the famous eight ponds resulting from the eruption of Mt. Fuji and traditional houses of the small village (<http://bit.ly/MTFUJI>).
